DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-10, 21-22, and 25-26, drawn to a first method of efficient production of high levels of recombinant sucrose synthase wherein the sucrose synthase is represented by SEQ ID NO:3, a first product, the enzyme product, and a first method of using in the production of UDPG.

Group II, claims 11-20, 23-24 and 27-28, drawn to a second method of efficient production of high levels of recombinant sucrose synthase wherein the sucrose synthase is represented by SEQ ID NO:11, a second product, the enzyme product, and a second method of using in the production of UDPG.

Group III, claims 29-33, drawn to a third method of using an enzyme product in the manufacture of assay kits.

Group IV, claims 34-43, drawn to a fourth method for the production of transgenic plants and a third product, the transgenic plants.

The groups of inventions listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The Inventions I-IV are linked by the technical feature of recombinant sucrose synthase enzymes. It is noted since different SEQ ID NOs are claimed, that no one specific sucrose synthase may be the technical feature, but rather sucrose synthase in general. However, this feature is not special because it does not constitute an advancement over the prior art. Zrenner et al (1995 The Plant Journal 7:97-107), in elucidating the role of sucrose synthase, transformed potato plants with recombinant DNA constructs that encode sucrose synthase.

Furthermore, the Inventions listed as I-IV are independent and distinct for the following reasons:

Invention I requires SEQ ID NO:3, not required by any other Invention and does not require the primer pairs or SEQ ID NO:11 of Invention II, the assay kit making material of Invention III, or the transgenic plant materials and method steps of Invention IV.

Invention II requires SEQ ID NO:11, not required by any other Invention and does not require the primer pairs or SEQ ID NO:3 of Invention I, the assay kit making material of Invention III, or the transgenic plant materials and method steps of Invention IV.

Invention III requires assay kit making materials not required by any other Invention and does not require SEQ ID NO:3 required by Invention I, SEQ ID NO:11 required by Invention II or the transgenic plant materials and method steps of Invention IV.

Invention IV requires transgenic plant materials and method steps not required by any other Invention and does not require SEQ ID NO:3 required by Invention I, SEQ ID NO:11 required by Invention II or the assay kit making materials of Invention III.

The above listed Inventions lack unity, and also are independent and distinct from one another as discussed above and restriction is therefore proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
